

Making a decision when people disagree: notes

Let each side speak once without interruption.

Write the question on the board in one sentence.

Decide. Then thank the side that lost, by name.